

Alex Olthoff

10408 Hayes Avenue
Silver Spring, MD 20902
(301)-461-0628
olthoma8@juniata.edu

- Target Position English teaching position in a foreign country with an organization that is seeking a bright, engaged teacher.
- Education Bachelor of Arts, 2012
Peace and Conflict Studies
Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pennsylvania
- Teaching
- Taught basic conflict resolution skills to children at Standing Stone Elementary School.
 - Worked as a teacher of nature activities and a ropes course instructor. Learned to encourage participation.
 - Acted as a counselor at a day camp for science education. Learned classroom management.
- English/Communication
- Wrote a 75 page thesis on Nigerian politics which was well received. Gained greater appreciation for proper writing.
 - Excelled in multiple writing courses throughout college.
 - Participated in Juniata's Bailey Oratorical Speech competition. Learned to speak more effectively.
- Cultural Sensitivity
- Lived with roommates and/or housemates from multiple countries throughout college.
 - Grew up in the very diverse area of Washington, D.C.
 - Developed a deep appreciation of international cuisine, dance and music through repeated exposure at home and in college.
- Experience
- Camp Counselor, 2008
Montgomery College Summer Camp, City, State
- Nature Activity Leader, 2009
Melwood Recreation Center, City, State
- Conflict Resolution Instructor, 2010-2011
Standing Stone Elementary, City, State
- References Available Upon Request