Is God Calling You to Serve? Answer the Call, be a Liturgical Minister!

The small group of volunteers who serve our Mass community are in need of your help. Those volunteers help to set-up the lounge for Mass, lector (read), cantor (lead the singing) serve as Ministers of Hospitality (greeters) and Eucharistic Ministers. If you feel called to service, this is an excellent opportunity for you. The commitment is totally on your schedule as a volunteer. We know that Mass on campus is important to our students and the surrounding community but we can only sustain this Mass with the help of volunteers. Please give careful consideration to serving as a Liturgical Minister in any capacity as we need all our hands, hearts, and souls to give. What is Jesus asking of you? Feel free to contact Lisa at baerL@juniata.edu

Gospel Reflection

February 2 Luke 2:22-40 Feast of the Presentation

Family life provides opportunities to grow in holiness. We are never perfect on this side of Heaven. Each of us has areas that could be presented to the Lord for purification. Ask the Holy Spirit to guide your family in finding those areas and offering them to God.

Seeking Answers

College and young adult living seems to the most precious time for expanding our minds and thoughts around all things spiritual and especially organized religion. If you have found yourself in the state of questioning your faith and seeking answers other than, "because that's the way it is" or "the Church says so...," feel free to reach out to me and we can find a time to meet and talk. Listening is my specialty and I make no judgement on your questions, answers or decisions. I'm an excellent sound board and welcome the questions and process. You know that saying, "been there, done that, got the t-shirt!" I have the t-shirts. Lisa baerL@juniata.edu

We will investigate these issues objectively, using intelligence, logic and historical fact. FRIDAYS 1230-120PM, BAC C-209. (If you've sat in on this study in years past, this one is an updated (and, shorter) 2019 version which includes a new element how.to.reach.the.21st century secular and nonbelieving world. Please let others know about this study!) Contact James Latten at <a href="https://latten.gov/latten.the.gov/latten.t
- 2. Galatians Bible Study Join us right off campus at 1624 Mifflin Street on Thursday evenings from 8:00 PM to 9:00 PM this semester as we explore Paul's letter to the Galatians! If someone asked you to explain the good news of the Christian faith, what would you say? Writing to the church in Galatia, Paul provides one of the clearest explanations of the gospel (literally translated as "good news") in the New Testament. This discussion-based Bible study is aimed at helping Christians apply the teachings found within the book of Galatians to their everyday lives. Contact Stephanie Lauback at lauback@juniata.edu or James Meersman at meersman@juniata.edu for more info. We will start this Thursday, January 23rd.
- 3. Join us Wednesday evenings 8-9pm for an experiential group study we're calling "FLOW: For the Life Of the World". FLOW will explore the application of questions like: What is our faith for? Why does living out our faith matter? What does it mean to be a steward? And how do we steward well? We will be using a combination of activities, films, conversations, and digging into Scripture to explore together how cultivating a more rooted and robust understanding of stewardship may change how we engage our faith, relationships, time, the world, and the whole of our lives in light of the Gospel. Please email Dani Erdley (derdley@ccojubilee.org) or Adrienne Willhoft (awillhoft@ccojubilee.org) to be added to the group email list for more information and location updates.
