All exam dates and times are local (Eastern Time). Exam locations for in-person classes are the usual room assignment unless noted otherwise for common exams. A common exam may be scheduled for a course with multiple sections. Common exams are offered at instructor discretion and are conducted on the days and times listed on the schedule.

Every effort is made to distribute final exam times equitably based on class meeting days and times and to avoid exam conflicts. If a class meeting time is not listed because it's at a non-standard time, the course instructor should consult with the Registrar on which exam block to use.

Students with more than two exams in a single day should confer with their instructor(s) to arrange for alternate exam time(s).

Instructors are under no obligation to reschedule final exams to accommodate student travel plans. If a student must make travel arrangements prior to knowing their exam schedule, they should not plan to depart campus until after the entire exam week concludes.
